EASTERN STATES IN WINTER'S GRIP

MANY DEATHS FROM EXPOSURE
IN BIG CITIES

MID-WEST THE COLDEST
IN TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

Even California Experiences Unusual
Conditions as Eastern Blizzard
Crosses Mountain Ranges Westward
—300 Fires in Chicago.

Chicago.—The middle west, far northwest and parts of the south and California have experienced the coldest weather in twenty-five years.

Iowa points report 28 below with ice in the rivers ten inches thick. The ice harvest has commenced and a bountiful crop is assured.

Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and adjacent territory continue cold. Central Illinois points report 18 degrees below zero. Northern Indiana had 25 below and a blizzard.

The cold crossed the Ohio river and was felt as far south as Louisiana and northern Florida. Memphis reported 5 degrees above zero, which is fairly cool for the sunny south.

Weather in the east appears to be moderating. In New York city twelve above was reported, but upper New York state and the New England states continue very cold.

In the western states many trains were delayed and country roads impassable. Livestock is suffering because of the sleet and the snow covering every form of vegetation. Considerable concern is felt for winter wheat, which is smothered under the heavy blanket of sleet, and tractors are being used to break this shell.

Chicago had the coldest day in a quarter of a century with an official record of 13 below zero in the city and 18 to 20 below in the suburbs.

Six deaths and more than 300 fires, with property damage exceeding a quarter million dollars are attributed to the cold wave so far and there will be additional deaths and more fires. Scores of persons were picked up and treated for frozen hands, feet and ears. Many of the victims had loaded up on poison hootch and were easy victims of the piercing cold. Charitable institutions, public and private, were taxed to the limit. Panhandlers and beggars thronged the Loop district, seeking food and money, chiefly money. Thieves of all degrees went about their work with great vigor, beating their victims and leaving them helpless on the icy pavements.

Dr. Bundeson, health commissioner, received 185 complaints of ill-heated flats and will prosecute the landlords in every case.

The upper peninsula of Michigan is in the grip of the coldest wave of the present winter. Temperatures have varied from 10 to 17 below zero. Temperatures as low as 30 below zero were reported from some points in the peninsula.

With an official temperature reading of 8 degrees below zero, St. Louis and vicinity experienced the coldest weather of the winter. At Harrisburg, Ills., a temperature of 11 degrees below zero was reported.

NEW SERUM TO DESTROY ALL MICROBES SAVE ONE

Minneapolis.—The theory of Dr. Twort, great English bacteriologist, who first announced the ultra-microbe, is being worked out in actual practice at the University of Minneapolis, and the experiments of Dr. D'Herelle, Pasteur institute, Paris, are being confirmed. Ultra-microbes, organisms so small as to be invisible even with the strongest microscope, living as parasites on disease bacteria, have been isolated at the university and made into a serum so deadly that one drop of the liquid diluted one million times will annihilate the most highly developed culture of pneumonia, typhoid fever, diphtheria, dysentery, anthrax or chicken cholera bacteria.

Dr. Robert S. Green, professor of bacteriology and immunology at the university, has successfully produced the "phage," which will kill all bacteria save that of tuberculosis. Experiments show that this has not yet been accomplished.

San Diego Woman, Suficide

San Francisco.—In a fit of delirium following a three-day illness, Mrs. Fanny G. Purdy, aged 34, of San Diego, and a granddaughter of Ulysses S. Grant, escaped after a battle with her special nurse in the St. Francis hospital, and running down a hallway plunged from a sixth story window to her death in the courtyard.

WILL ASK FRANCE TO PAY WAR DEBT

ADMINISTRATION NOT INCLINED TO DALLY LONGER

U. S. WANTS CLARIFYING
STATEMENT FROM PARIS

Omission of War Obligation From Inventory Statement Calls for Some Explaining—M. Clementel Says We Got Him Wrong.

Washington.—The United States is about to ask the French government for a direct official statement of her attitude regarding the war debt of approximately $4,000,000,000 owed to this government.

This step was decided upon because of the statement of the French finance minister, which attempts to repudiate the obligation. Previous assurances from authorized spokesmen of the French government to the United States all acknowledged the debt and merely requested delay in payment. The United States now desires to know definitely whether France really means to repudiate her obligation—a step which this government does not believe Paris contemplates.

The French finance minister's statement provoked surprise and critical comment in administration circles and in congress. Everywhere the reaction was the same—France will be accommodated as to terms, but none of the debt can be canceled.

On behalf of a high official of the government it was said:

1.—That it would be a very serious mistake for France not to recognize the debt and provide for its discharge as an international credit should be maintained.

2.—That the United States will not consent to any arrangements for pooling the debts and paying according to relative national wealth.

3.—That this government does not underrate the sacrifice and spirit of France and hopes the entire matter may be dealt with on a friendly basis.

4.—That the United States has no desire to be oppressive, but that we expect the debt to be recognized and proper arrangements made to fund it. Secretary of State Hughes called on the secretary of the debt funding commission, Elliott Wadsworth, assistant secretary of the treasury. Following this it was indicated that the state department is preparing to ask France for an explicit statement of her position to clear up the contradictory attitudes of the finance minister and the previous expressions of the French government.

Meanwhile, congress had considerable to say. Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, a war veteran strongly pro-French and a close friend of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, made a statement on the floor declaring that he believed the French people honest at heart and did not think they would repudiate a just obligation.

Representative Wingo of Arkansas, another Democrat, declared the president's opposition to cancellation has the wholehearted support of the nation.

"The honor and self interest of nations will eventually lead them to stop playing fast and loose with their moral obligations," he said.

Paris.—Confronted by the arched eyebrows of the American government, M. Clementel, minister of finance, has hastened to assure the press that he was misunderstood in various particulars when he recently discussed the French debt to the United States and suggested that part of it be canceled.

The finance minister protests that portions of the French national inventory statement have been misinterpreted. Never, he solemnly asserts, did he have any intention of proposing that European war debts be pooled.

PREDICTS BANNER YEAR FOR CALIFORNIA—TOURISTS LATE

San Francisco.—Full of optimistic predictions for a "good business year" in 1925 and for increased travel of tourists and settlers to California, Edward Chambers, vice president in charge of traffic of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, arrived in San Francisco on a business tour from Chicago. Chambers is credited with being as closely in touch with western business conditions and western development as any railroad executive in the country.

"The outlook for winter passenger traffic to California is also good," he said. "Although it will come somewhat later this year than usual because of the mildness of the eastern winter until the last few weeks. We expect to run three sections of our California limited during January."

A 1925 SERVICE CREED

Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels in advocacy of fair treatment for other races and to secure the giving of money for relief and education and the spread of the Gospel throughout the world, but do not have a humble sincere feeling of brotherhood toward men of a different color or culture my attitude is likely to become one of patronage and condescension and to give the impression of sounding brass and a clanging cymbal.

And though I preach convincingly of the coming federation of all nations and understand all racial differences and all the economic and social problems involved in international and interracial relations, and though I have all faith so that I could remove mountains of prejudice through the inspiration of my appeals, but cannot win the full and unreserved personal confidence of men of other races through the spirit of friendliness, I am nothing.

And though I bestow all my goods to feed Near East orphans and Japanese earthquake sufferers, an though I suffer social ostracism in missionary service for Negroes, and have not a spirit of respect and appreciation for men of other races it profiteth me nothing—nor them either, beyond a temporary alleviation of physical needs.

And now abideth faith in the unity of mankind and the possibilities of every race, hope for the ultimate triumph of peace and good will throughout the earth, real friendliness for all men without regard to race, color or previous condition; these three, but the greatest of these is that unfailing, honest, humble friendliness which is the strongest force in race relations as it is everywhere else.

Public Saved $600,000,000

Washington.—Unprecedented efficiency and economy characterized the operation of the country's railroads during 1924, with a consequent vast saving to the shipping public, the American Railway association declared in the annual summary of its activities. The total amount of saving due to the efficient handling of the roads "has amounted to hundreds of millions," compared to 1921. It was declared the public saved $600,000,000 this year in reduced freight rates alone.

With the approval of the government for the spanning of the Golden Gate from the Presidio to Marin county, nothing now stands in the way of financing the giant bridge which it is claimed will cost approximately $21,000,000.

CAMPBELL QUINT TRIMS SAN JOSE

Friday, December 19, Campbell came into its own when the Unlimited basket ball team defeated San Jose. Last year in the big game two extra periods had to be added and then San Jose beat by three points. That was disappointing. Now it's San Jose's turn to be disappointed. The score was 22-15.

The starting line-up was, forwards, Clark Bonaccorso; center, Robinson; guards, Reed and Sundquist. The only chance that was made was when M. Nelson was put in forward, taking the place of Bonaccorso who was taken out on account of fouls.

The first half was fought hard and the score see-sawed back and forth. At the end of the half Campbell was ahead 12-11. In the fourth quarter Clark shot field goals which took some of the pep out of San Jose. At the end of the game the score was 22-15.

Clark was, without doubt, the star of the game. He made 5 buckets and was still "rarin'" to go. All the boys had the fight that so distinguished the team last year. "Here" Sundquist showed up as a standing guard. Captain Reed drove the ball for some fine passes and made one field shot as well.

San Jose tries to excuse themselves by saying that Campbell stalled at the last of the game. In the first place, stalling is legitimate basketball, but right when Campbell was supposed to have stalled is when they made the most baskets. If what Campbell did at the last as stalling it's a great pity that Campbell didn't stall at the first of the game.

In the game between Campbell and the C. S. A. of Los Gatos the locals carried off the honors by a decisive score.

MASONS INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

One of the most impressive installation ceremonies ever witnessed was the joint meeting of the Charity and Los Gatos Lodge F. & A. M. Tuesday evening. Most Worshipful Grand Master of California David Reese of Ventura assisted by Grand Lecturer Baker acted as installing officers, the following Campbell Masons being installed:

W. M.—L. S. Miller.
S. W.—L. T. Lenox.
J. W.—M. J. Bohnett.
Treas.—R. Alison.
Sec.—T. A. Robinson.
S. D.—D. H. Cramer.
Stewards—E. Price and A. C. Anderson.

Following the ceremony Grand Master Reese gave the assembly a most interesting and instructive talk. Judge Gosby and T. M. Wright also gave short talks. Light refreshments and a social visit followed the closing of the lodge.

P. T. A. TUESDAY

The regular meeting of the Grammar School P. T. A. will be held on Tuesday, January 6, 1925, at 2:30 in the kindergarden room. There will be a speaker from the Good Cheer Health center who will talk to us on the care, health and diet of children of school age.

There will be other business of interest and a large attendance is desired.

Remember there is a prize offered to the room having the largest attendance of parents. Help your children by coming to these meetings.

Regular Chamber of Commerce meeting has been postponed one week to meet January 8, at the Library. As important matters are to be discussed a large attendance is urged.

BETROTHAL ANNOUNCED AT DINNER PARTY

Miss Helen Baugh and Miss Lois Gardner were the joint hostesses at a delightful luncheon given at the home of Miss Baugh's mother, Mrs. Hattie A. Baugh, on Saturday last.

The guests were bidden to gather around the large table in the dining room, which was charming in its decoration of violets and ferns, individual bouquets being laid at each cover and a large flat arrangement occupying the center of the table. The place cards were so unusual as to cause closed scrutinizing, which disclosed the fact that they concealed the announcement of the engagement of Miss Janice Baugh to Mr. Merlin J. Bohnett. This brought forth many expressions of good wishes for the happy couple from those present. Both of the young people have many friends who also extend their felicitations.

Those bidden to participate in this happy event were: Messdames Baugh, Gardner, D. H. Cramer, Ralston Alison, S. F. Graves, Mark E. Kennedy, S. L. Hayes, E. R. Kennedy and the Misses Janice Baugh, Mary Rodeck, Anna Hagelin, Lucile Alison, Helen Baugh and Lois Gardner.

CAMPBELL AVE. EXTENSION HEARING MONDAY

The hearing of the arguments for the opening of the Campbell avenue extension west will be held by the County Board of Supervisors at the Court house Monday morning and the Campbell committee urges a goodly attendance from this district at that time.

The committee working on this is S. N. Hedegard, J. C. Ainsley, S. G. Rodeck, R. Alison and J. H. Hagelin.

The following petition is suggested to our readers as a copy with the urgent request that it be either clipped from the paper or copied, signed and mailed to that Honorable Board at once that they may receive a number of such letters Monday morning. To the Board of Supervisors of Santa Clara County: Gentlemen:

Whereas, there is before you the petition of S. N. Hedegard et al for the opening of a road from Campbell Avenue to Prospect Road and we believe said road would be of great benefit to a large community, we respectfully urge that you grant the petition as presented.

CAMPBELL POSTAL SERVICE ON TIME

The annual Christmas postal rush was handled most expeditiously this year by the local force and generally all packages were delivered on time. It is a well established fact that Campbell community gives more packages than it receives and most of them were sent early enough for Christmas delivery.

Due to the intelligent and general cooperative spirit of Campbell patrons the great bulk of forwarded packages was well out of the way before the heavy incoming mails reached us.

For this cooperation and personal consideration of the postal force, I extend most sincere thanks. We heartily desire that these conditions may continue.

A hearty and prosperous New Year to all.

DEAR PUBLIC

The Orchard City Theatre and Sherman Clay Co. take great pleasure in announcing the complete installation of a Robert Morton photo-player organ in YOUR THEATRE. Realizing that music is the greater part of motion picture presentation, this instrument is so constructed that it can be played so as to bring out the various moods appropriate to the particular scenes enacted.

Believing that Campbell would appreciate the fine music produced by this organ, we have gone to a great expense to give the theatre-going public a most worth-while instrument.

We have but one thot in mind and that is to give you the very best in pictures, music and entertainment.

We take pleasure in announcing a partial list of our coming attractions: Rudolph Valentino, in "The Sainted Devil;" Jack Holt and Ernest Torrence in "North of 36;" Gloria Swanson in "Her Love Story;" Cecile B. DeMille's "Feet of Clay;" Ernest Torrence and Betty Compson in "Peter Pan," and others.

Yours for better pictures,

Orchard City Theatre
